Georgia Regents University to Host National Library of Medicine Georgia Biomedical Informatics Course

The National Library of Medicine has awarded Robert B. Greenblatt M.D. Library, Georgia Regents University a multi-year, $1.7 million contract to host the NLM Georgia Biomedical Informatics Course.

The fall class is scheduled for September 14-20, 2014. The deadline for application is July 7, 2014, 8 a.m. EDT.

Read more

National Institutes of Health Compliance Updates

Are you NIH compliant? With assistance from the Greenblatt Library, GRU researchers are steadily becoming more compliant with the National Institutes of Health mandate to submit their final peer-reviewed manuscripts to PubMed Central.

Read more

Open Access Resolution

At the April 2014 University Senate meeting, the Senate voted to accept a resolution on the “Support of Open Access Dissemination of Research.” Notably, the resolution “calls on the University Libraries to provide educational opportunities that help faculty, staff, and students understand the system of scholarly communication, including authors’ rights, the process of submitting works to Scholarly Commons, dissemination of scholarly works through open access methods, and Creative Commons licensing.”

Read more

Content and Collections Updates

- Discover how the GRU Libraries are updating their collections through book deselection.
- Check out Reese Library's James H. Smith Memorial Collection, a science fiction collection dedicated to the memory of Professor Smith and his contributions to the university.
- Do you have trouble finding online articles and eBooks? Learn how to use the eBook and eJournal navigators.

Read more

General Library News

- Get ready for the University Libraries LibQual+® survey in Fall 2014. This survey is designed to measure users’ perceptions and expectations of the services provided by the library.
- Learn about upcoming renovations to the HVAC and lighting in Reese Library.
- The coffee shop in the lobby of Greenblatt Library has reopened as Charlie’s Grounds.
- Familiarize yourself with Reese Library's new study zones, designed to accommodate different conversation levels throughout the space.
- Revisit Reese Library's spring exhibit about the alternative newspaper The Great Speckled Bird and congratulate the winners of the GRU-UGA Student Scientific and Medical Illustration Exhibition, currently on display in Greenblatt Library.
Highlights from Libraries' Historical and Special Collections

- Discover original resources related to the Spanish-American War in recognition of Memorial Day.
- View class photographs from the Greenblatt Library’s Historical Collections and Archives that were recently featured in the online Smithsonian magazine.
- Learn about the History of Health Sciences lectures from April and May. The next History of the Health Sciences lecture will be July 23.

Faculty and Staff News

- Congratulate GRU librarians on their awards and publications.
- Learn about faculty and staff trainings.
- Celebrate the winners of the First Annual Staff Awards ceremony.
- Welcome new faculty and staff to Greenblatt Library.

Library Hours

Greenblatt Library
Mon. - Thurs. 7:30 a.m. - Midnight
Friday 7:30 a.m. - 7:30 p.m.
Sat. 9:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m.
Sun. Noon - Midnight

Reese Library
Mon. - Thurs. 7:30 a.m. - 10:30 p.m
Friday 7:30 a.m. - 5:00 p.m.
Sat. 9:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m.
Sun. 1:30 p.m. - 9:30 p.m.